FIRST BALE OF 1923 COTTON IS GINNED HERE TODAY

Our Town

It isn't your town, its you!

We know a young man who isn't much for beauty but a sturdy sort of soul, business like and modest. He doesn't go in strong for permanent waves or chase his dogs round at jazz but some day he will grab off the town beauty for his bungalow while the town Shieks stand around the street corners with their shoes full of feet.

Better school facilities like all things that challenge the attention of this good citizensship are now in strong prospect both for the white and colred schools in Cameron. The fact that the board has appointed a committee and is now advising as to the best means by which the building needs can be met. It is a good day in the life of any citizenship when such civic aspirations as these find expression in practical efforts. Let us be mindful of the needs of the negroes in Cameron for they need bettr facilities and must have them if anything is done to relieve the present situation.

With vice outlawed; the law enforced; streets rebuilded; parks beautified and enlarged; street department equipped; fire insurance key rate reduced; water system enlarged and contract for all standard mains; sewer system made adaquate by extensions for twenty five years to come streets better lighted; sanitation improved and plans for better school buildings, Cameron is being made a better place in which to live and the people demonstrating every day in every way just what may be attained by co-operation and organized effort.

Tuesday in Houston twelve men from Goose Creek pled guilty to masked floggings and were fined $100 each. The men along with others have sworn to outlaw the lash and the secret masked flogings in that little town. In thus redeeming themselves, their citizenship and their town from the stigma of anarchy, the law and court house hae trihmphed as they must always triumph in a clash with the forces of darkness in this land of free government and constitutional liberty. Cameron and other towns while deploring the occurance of masked floggings in Texas, must feel proud in contrast in that there has been no mob rule or law defiance in this community.

Friends of constituted authority stood on the battle line and cheered Acting Governor Davidson in his effort to run down and bring to Justice the masked slayers of Otto Lange at Summerville. The vacation of Gov. Neff ended in the ninth inning with two men on and a good pinch hitter up with the score tied. We were told that arrests were to be made. Was Davidson making political capital by an attempt to outlaw a certain secret society or was he actuated by a "constitutional desire" to avenge the blood of Otto Lange? And again, has Governor Neff purposely turned aside from the good work presumably begun by Davidson, or is he too busy framing a dry punch for wet New York on August 14? Cameron folks who manifest a keen interest in respect for the law are now asking what has come of the effforts to vindigate the courts of Washington county.

About the only prospect we seem to have now that the Yoe High school campus will be cleared of weeds and rubbish will be for the school children to trample them when the fall term begins in September. By that time most of the weeds and thistles will have died out. Civic thinkers have quite another picture of Yoe High school. They see it with broad walks, sparkling fountains, brilliant lights and statues resplendent in gratitude of the people whose children and whose children's children will go in the succeeding years to this shrine of learning; they see it enriched by the touch of landscape artists and magnified by the magic touch of civic virtue. Pinch yourself! It's a dream. Look at the sweeping compound cans, cinder piles, holes, gullies, crates, boxes, etc. This week three were arrested in the building. Others have broken in and destroyed property. "Our Town" editor recently asked the question "Is this building a mark for thieves or a thing to be cherished?" Why does not the school board of the Yoe Estate apply funds to maintain this property?

KU KLUX TO MARCH IN GAUSE

The Herald is in receipt of information that a parade of the Ku Klux will be held in Gause on Wednesday evening August 8 in the town of Gause in Milam county.

This is the second demonstration by the Klan in the county and the first parade to have been held in the county.

The Gause Klan is one of three large Klans in the county. The demonstration on August 8 will include speaking by a noted Texas protestant preacher and a big barbecue. Cameron Klan No. 111 is expected to contribute a large number of marchers to the masked procession that will go through the streets at Gause near night fall.

CONSTRUCTION OF WATER MAINS PARTLY FINISHED

REPORT TO CITY COUNCIL SHOWS BUSINESS SECTION MAINS ARE COMPLETED.

In a report made to the city council the Cameron Water Power & Light Company, through its manager C. W. Lawrence, it is shown that water mains in the business district as per the specifications of the Fire Inurance Commission, have been completed.

In addition to complying with the contract as outlined by the insurance commission, the company has extended a six inch main from the Methodist church building to the Grammar school tieing into the four inch main and installing the required number of fire hydrants.

The completion of the system in the business section has been certified to the department by Mayor White and it is expected that credits will be entered at the beginning of the month.

One of the big features of the contract with the water company is the fact that no further extensions of water mains will be made except by the use of standard sizes thus eliminating for all time inadaquate and undersized mains.

The construction program was undertaken voluntarily by the water company on request of the city and is one of the most far reaching improvements in recent years.

Following is the report of Mr. Lawrence:

July 26th, 1923.

To Hon. J. B. White, Mayor and City Council Cameron:

Gentlemen—We beg to advise you that we have completed the laying of 8 inch mains as outlined by the State Fire Insurance Commission, as follows:

On First street from Fannin Ave. to Travis Ave. thence on Travis to Main street, tieing in at Houston Ave. and Main streets, placing a tanker hydrant at corner of Central Ave. and First street also one at corner of First and Travis Ave.

On Third street from Fannin Ave. to Travis Ave. with 8 inch and on from Fannin Ave. on Third street to College Ave. with 6 inch pipe tieing in at College Ave. to the 4 inch pipe in front of school building. Placing a tanker hydrant at corner of Third street and Fannin Ave. and one at corner of Third and Houston Ave. one regular 2 way hydrant.

This completes the extensions as requested in the business section and according to the State Fire Insurance rating board entitles Cameron to a reduction of six cents on the City Key rate.

Yours truly,
CAMERON WATER, POWER & LIGHT COMPANY.
C. W. Lawrence, Sec'y.

HOME DEMONSTRATION CLUB HOLDS MEETING

COMMERCIAL CLUB SENDS TWO GIRLS TO REPRESENT COUNTY AT DISTRICT MEET

Ben Arnold Home Demonstration Club met July 18, 9 a. m. for an all day meeting. There were 26 members.

The morning was filled with lessons in adjusting the apron pattern to a small girl and to a large girl and the cutting of 26 aprons and caps which are to be made by the girls themselves to be used during the club work and as uniforms.

Two cooking lessons in making cooked salad dressing and potato salad were given. The aslads were served as a part of the lunch which the girls had brought from home, which consisted of fried chicken and sandwiches and pie and iced tea, which was served by our visitor, Miss Kate Sproul. During the recreation period following lunch we sang club songs.

The canning lessons given in the afternoon were for the purpose of preparing the girls who would represent the club in the contest at the Short Course July 23 to 28. Eula Collins was selected to do the club this service. It is through the courtesy of the Cameron Commercial Club that two girls will represent Milam county in the tomato canning contest. The other girl will go from the Buckholts club.

We like our Home Demonstration Club very much, which the increasing number of new members shows. The next meeting will be at 3 p. m, Aug. 1. The Club Reporter.

The first bale of 1923 cotton was ginned Thursday morning by the Weems Gin for H. M. Mineer from near Ben Arnold.

The cotton was raised on the Peoples farm near the Watt plantation and about two miles from Ben Arnold. The bale weighed 390 pounds and was made from 1200 pounds off seed cotton.

The bale was taken to the local cotton exchange where it was placed on display.

The bale was sold at auction at one o'clock Thursday afternoon from in front of the cotton exchange.

WHITE MAN HELD HERE IN NEGRO MURDER CASE

A. L. Berry, a white man, was placed under arrest here today in connection with the finding of the body of Robert Williams, negro, near San Gabriel late last week. A negro is also being held by the officers in connection with the killing.

The body of the negro was found in a clump of high weeds near the San Gabriel river where it had been dragged some ten or fifteen feet from the path that leads to the river.

The man had been shot with a shot gun loaded with buckshot and almost the entire head was blown away. The strictest secrecy is being maintained in connection with the case as the sheriff's department believes the killing will involve a number of men thought to have frequented the river bottom for gambling. The negro killed is said to have been a gambler and according to the sheriff's department was known to have flourished a great roll of bills on the day of the killing.

The negro was last seen leaving his home with a shotgun and told neighbors that he was going to the river for a swim and to hunt.

The white man arrested in connection with the killing was brought before the Justice Court here this morning and was grilled by the district attorney and released on a $1000 bond.

FOR BETTER SCHOOLS.

July 25th, 1923.

Editor Cameron Herald, City.

During the street paving election campaign I had occasion to express my sentments advocating a bond issue sufficient to supply adequate schools for both the white an dcolored children of Cameron, for years to come. I was called up over the phone at that time and asked if I had informed myself as to the real conditions existing in our grammar schools, and I will say now that after investigation I find that we are not only badly overcrowded, but that the lighting, heating and sanitary equipment in these schools are far below the state requirements, in both the primary and grammar departments. I am writing this to say that I am still in favor of the School Bond Issue stronger than ever and also better streets, more lights and better water and fire protection away from the business and prominent residential sections of the city. The negroes certainly deserve one good street to their school, if no more, and if I am correctly informed, they paid for the poles and the building of the only light line to their school, and during the past winter, the main street leading to their school was almost impassable.

It is a fact (and we might as well recognize it) that we will be forced to take care of almost as many pupils from out of town as in the city.

Let's get ready for it. BETTER SCHOOLS means a BIGGER AND BETTER CAMERON.

Yours for BOTH,
R. L. BATTE.

HIGHWAY REPORT SHOWS ROADS MUCH IMPROVED

CAMERON CONTINUES TO GET PUBLICITY FROM INTEREST TAKEN IN ROADS HERE.

By J. T. PARMA.

All Highways in this section are passable and are in fair to good shape, this also applies to every highway in the State. In Missouri the roads are very muddy and it will be another four days before they will be passable.

San Antonio from Cameron via Rogers, Bartlett, Taylor and Austin is exceptionally good at this time. The black dirt stretch of about nine miles around Pflugerville near Austin, is as smooth as pavement, and the only stretch that is not so good is out of Autin between Buda, Kyle into San Marcos. This stretch was macadam or tarvia at one time, but lately it became chuggy and at the present time the topping was removed and it resembles more of an ordinary graveled road.

Burnet form Cameron via Rogers or through Davilla to Bartlett, Georgetown and Bertram is used heavily at this time on account of outing and fishing parties headed for the Llano rivers and Marble Falls on the Colorado. The roads are in splendid shape at this time. Most of this road is gravel and balance improved.

Amarillo from Cameron via Rogers, Temple or Belton direct, Lampasas, Coleman, Sweetwater and Lubbock is used more at present than any other route thru this section. The stream of travelers is steady to and fro. The road at the present time is also in very good shape. The work of construction which has been going along in Coleman county for the past several months, is nearing completion and parties headed in that direction will enjoy riding over the new completed road. Tourists will find this route very interesting, lots of scenery, no hills to climb, though you will pass between them at times—just enough to make it interesting.

Taylor-Thorndale conditions have improved some, but still it is advisable to make better time via Rogers, Bartlet and Granger.

HEARNE-CAMERON HIGHWAY MARKED.

The entire highway is being marked with Yellow, Black and Yellow markers, which are three bands painted on poles. They are very attractive.

The matter of marking this highway which was under consideration the past year and sponsored by the branch of the Motor League of South Texas at Cameron was taken up the branch with the Texas Highway Department at Austin last Monday. This was as to the mark and proper markings. Upon proper instruction the paint crew started off the Kings' Trail (KT) at Hearne and wended their way to Cameron by the way of Port Sullivan, Branchville and Maysfield, reaching Cameron this morning. This afternoon another start will be made at Little River Station and will come back through Rogers, Buckholts and Pettibone. The markings is expected to be completed this week. When completed, it will connect the two Kings' Trails. One out of Waco, Temple, Little River Station and Taylor as Little River, the other out of Waco, Bremond, Hearne to Houston at Hearne. This is one of the most roads out of Houston and East for Amarillo and Colorado points, in fact one of the main traveled highways in Milam county. While the marking crew were out between the hours five and seven in the afternoon, 28 loaded cars of tourists passed over it.

The markings will increase tourist travel thru the City of Cameron and the city will derive great benefits from it.

The expense in connection with the markings of this popular highway was overlooked, but the Motor League at Cameron learned that there are still some very good road enthusiasts in this city, wanting to see such as this come through. The Cameron Commercial Club I think spent $150 and the Rockdale Chamber of Commerce $125 towards the marking of the DWFG highway through Milam county with one-fiffth of travel in comparison to the new Hearne-Cameron-Temple highway, and if it cost $275 to mark it through one county, what did it cost the promoters of the new highway through three counties?

The distance between the two points beginning at Hearne through Cameron to Little River station is about 65 miles.

Mr. and Mrs. John Henry Thomas of Gause passed thru Cameron Friday on their way home from a visit to relatives in Waco and Dallas.

COTTON HARVEST NEAR; WORM PERIL IS FEARED

GINNING SEASON WILL BEGIN NEXT WEEK AND PRODUCTION LOOKS FAIR.

No essential changes have been noted in the cotton crop prospects in the county since last week except that some fear is felt among large bottom planters that the leaf worm will begin to infest the fields and the boll worm and weevil do damage.

Some signs have been reported of destruction by these pests in the bottom lands where the best cotton crop in years is about to be realized. The signs of these pests are restricted to small and isolated areas but may spread quickly.

However, prospects have not changed in any material degree and indications are that the crop will exceed the 50,000 bale mark as conservatively estimated.

Last week good rains fell in a number of cotton sections, although in the black land belt, little rain fell. In some sections of the county rain would do good but as a general demand it now appears that it would be more beneficial if dry weather remained on account off the fear of worm and weevil damage.

In the Liberty Hill sections and near Thorndale and in the black land belt picking is about to begin. The cotton is popping open fast and has already begun to give the field a white appearance.

In the bottom lands the cotton is till making and will be later.

East of Thorndale in the Connley section good rains have fallen and the crops are fine as can be, including corn and other feed crops. From Buckholts west and north taking in the black land belt of Marak and Yarrellton cotton will produce good. In the Ben Arnold and Burlington sections and east to Clarkson and Jones Prairie the crops are also good. At Gause in the Brazos bottom lands the best crops in many years are reported.

In the Milano and Rockdale sections the crops are reported good but not heavy average producers of cotton. Around Lexington in Lee county crops are said to be as good as at any time in the history of the country. A large part of this country is tributary to Rockdale.

Cotton gins in Cameron are now ready for the 1923 season with improved capacity and machinery to take care of the crop.

BAPTIST CHURCH.

The Baptist congregation Sunday morning voted to extend the pastor Rev. R. C. White, a vacation for the month of August. He will leave next week for Ashville, N. C., to spend the vacation.

At the services Sunday nine additions were made to the church, one by conversion and eight by letter. Among those who joined by letter were Mr. and Mrs. N. O. Kennedy and Billie Avriett.

Thirteen members have been added to the church since Sunday July 15.

The Baptists are having good success with their meeting at Curry. Rev. C. A. Todd formerly of New Mexico is doing the preaching with good interest and good attendance.

DISTINCTION WITHOUT A DIFFERENCE.

Considerable amusement is felt in governmental circles in the National Capital over Representative Manlove of Missouri, displaying upon the door of his office a large poster advertising the Ozarks. "Play in the Ozarks, the Land of a million Smiles," it reads, to the disapprobation of old timers in Congress who see the dignity of a Federal Building much injured. Mr. Manlove, however, can retort that the United States shipping lines are advertised in the passport division of the State Department, which apparently did not think it beneath the dignity of Uncle Sam to invite those going abroad to go on a United States boat.

Just why it is undignified for a Member of Congress to advertise his state, but perfectly dignified for the United States Shipping Board, Treasury, and Post Office to display their posters in their buildings, no one has yet explained.

WE NEED FREE SPEECH.

Man has ever tried to bury and destroy truth, and never yet succeeded. Roman emperors attempted to destroy truth, but truth destroyed them, and with them the civilization they had debauched. Men tried to destroy truth during the Dark Ages, but somewhere, somehow, the torch maintained its fire, and the civilization of today grew out of the ignorance and superstition of the times when learning was anathema. The Bolshevists tried to destroy truth when they burned God in effigy, and made religion a crime; now it is truth which is destroying Bolshevism. Men gone mad with self-esteem and the "dignity" of their position often attempt to destroy truth, when it is in the form of criticism ,but inevitably that which is mighty prevalis.

In New Mexico an intrepid editor criticised a court. The court sent him to jail for a long sentence on charges off criminal libel and contempt of court. Whereupon Governor Hinkle comes to the rescue with a complete pardon in both cases, holding that the liberty of free speech and a free press had been infringed and that the editor was only exercising his rights as a free American citizen in saying what he thought.

The American people had a taste of what suppression of free speech meant during the war. For political and military reasons it was then necessary; now it is no longer necessary. Free criticism can't hurt an honest government, an honest official, an honest court. To deny any man the right to criticise is to make the body or the man criticised, sacrosant; and, as the old woman said as she looked at the girafffe, "there ain't no such animal."

All honor to Governor Hinkle, whose Americanism includes not only clear thinking, but honest courage!

Everlastingly and always, forever and forever, world without end, the price of bacon advances.
Why?
Because we get bacon from hogs.

KEEP AMERICA'S WAMPUM SOUND!

By SAMUEL H. BEACH,
President, Savings Bank Division, American Bankers Association.

Although the United States is today upon a solid gold basis, we nevertheless know of our own knowledge what inflation means. It would take long to recall in detail the bitter experiences which this nation suffered during the Civil War and the years which followed it, and in our present easy condition we might think such conditions could never again arise. But with such men as Henry Ford and Thomas A. Edison talking about commodity money there is no foretelling what may happen.

S. H. Beach

One of the plainest lessons taught by financial history is that whenever a nation issues paper money with nothing back of it, that nation is on the road to disaster. Look at Russia with its worthless rubles and Germany with its worthless marks. Think of what happened in France during the years immediately following our Revolutionary War.

The common people of France rose in their might, tore down the Bastile, and made reprisal for centuries of kingly crime and oppression. The profligate court had piled up taxes until they were unbearable. The enraged populace killed King Louis XVI, and also his queen, Marie Antoinette. But they only threw themselves out of the frying pan into the fire so far as finances were concerned.

Unsound Money Tyranny

At the very worst point of their currency inflation they found themselves under the absolute domination of Robespierre. In order to meet the growing scarcity of coin, paper money called assignats were issued. First 400,000,000 francs worth, then 800,000,000 were added with the distinct understanding that the 1,200,000,000 would be the full extent of the issue. This pledge was soon broken and further issues brought the total up to 3,700,000,000 francs.

Frightful depreciation was the inevitable result; and legislation was passed making it a crime, with six years' imprisonment as the penalty, if any one should refuse to take the paper assignats at their face value. Just think of it! A French peasant after working the entire year to produce a crop was compelled by law to accept payment for that crop in paper money, which he knew to be worthless, or go to prison.

It was simply legalized robbery. When the penalty was increased to twenty years imprisonment the inevitable climax came. The Reign of Terror was at its height. Robespierre was in supreme power. He suggested that more assignats be issued and if the people did not take them the guillotine should be the penalty.

Robespierre's End

This unheard of outrage was more than the people could stand. An unknown man arose on the floor of the convention and denounced Robespierre, reciting the heinous crimes he had committed, and so worked upon the feelings of the audience that Robespierre, the tyrant, became Robespierre, the convicted criminal. Two days later he was led to the guillotine. France had learned her financial lesson well—that money must have value back of it.

The fallacy of unsound money is sure to confront us again. Never is there enough of everything for all the people. The struggle for existence is a real struggle, and those who find themselves in the lower strata of human society are ready at any time to grasp at that money or any of the other things which misguided politicians hold out to them.

My whole purpose is to drive home the fact that danger lies ahead and to urge every one to let no opportunity go by to use voice and influence toward keeping the wampum of these United States, as it is today, the soundest currency in the world.

SOME BANK SALARIES

Investigations made by the Missouri Bankers Association have revealed that 368 banks in the state in towns of under 2,000 population are paying their cashiers and chief executives an average of only $110 a month. Only 273 of the 1,162 reporting banks in towns under 5,000 population pay the president a salary. The report says:

"It indicates that, even allowing for the economy of living in small communities, the cashiers and managing officers of those 1,162 banks, who receive an average of $140 per month, either must have personal means to begin with, or must maintain the standards necessary to their positions as the leaders of their communities and the builders of the commonwealth by means of 'side lines,' such as selling insurance, collecting commissions on farm loans, and trading in real estate."

"INTERNATIONAL BANKER" A MYTH

Otto H. Kahn Refutes Idea That Foreign Finance Activities Dull Allegiance to America.

BANKING REFLECTS BUSINESS

"International Farmer" and Other Business Men Who Sell to Foreign Markets Create Demand for International Financial Service.

The idea that bankers engaged in financing foreign trade and in handling foreign bond flotations are a particular cult of "international bankers" actuated by motives differing from those of other bankers was refuted recently by Otto H. Kahn of New York, in an address before the Rochester Chamber of Commerce.

"There is no such thing as an 'International Banker' in America, as the meaning of the term is generally understood," Mr. Kahn said. "He exists in the imagination of people all too numerous, but he does not exist in the flesh. You might just as well speak of the 'International Farmer' because the farmer sells a certain percentage of his crops to Europe, or of the 'International Manufacturer.'

"The banker maintains, and can maintain, international contact, and conduct international business, only to the extent that American industry, commerce and agriculture are international. True, the banker must take within his purview continuously the conditions of affairs and the current of things throughout the world, but so must the exporter and importer, and so must the farmer take into account the prices and tendencies of the world market in Liverpool.

Banking Mostly Home Business

"The American banker's market is the home market. His success is conditioned upon the capacity and willingness of the American investor to absorb the securities which he offers. His very existence depends upon the confidence and co-operation of the public and of his fellow-bankers—and any banker whose activities would justly create the impression that he was actuated by cosmopolitan rather than by American interests would very soon lose that confidence and following.

"The business which he does for his own account in, with, or for Europe, is inconsiderable as compared to the business he does in America. His principal functions in relation to Europe are to provide the requisite banking facilities for export and import and for travelers. That part of his functions which consists in financing loans of foreign governments or industries has hitherto been, with sporadic exceptions, of relatively inconsiderable proportions as compared to the vastness of the volume of his transactions in financing American industry, commerce and enterprise.

Necessity for Foreign Credits

"In saying this, I do not mean to imply that there is anything that calls for apology in the floating of foreign loans in America and in the loaning of American funds to Europe, provided such loans are considered sound as to security and are made for legitimate, constructive purposes. Indeed such loans ought to, and I believe will, be made in increasing measure, when conditions in Europe will have become such as to warrant it.

"It is manifest that the promotion of our export trade, including, of course, the export of farm products, requires us, under the circumstances as they now are and are likely to remain for some time, to aid the purchasing power of other nations by extending to them financial facilities to a reasonable extent.

"It is the function of the banker to be instrumental in carrying out such transactions. In doing so, he is the means of serving a useful national purpose, just as he served a useful, indeed a highly important national purpose, in being the means of attracting and bringing European capital to America in former years when conditions were reversed and such capital was nothing less than vital to the development of this country and the realization of its opportunities."

FOR SOUND MONEY

Senator Oddie of Nevada, chairman of the United States Senate commission to investigate the problems of gold and silver mining, has allayed the fear that Western Senators, in their zeal to aid the cause of silver, might launch an unsound money wave. "I am for sound money," Senator Oddie says. "There is no thought of bimetalism or departing from the gold standard. We desire to help the great mining industry, but not through the creation of an unsound currency."

The commission is to study and report on the causes of the continuing decrease in the production of gold and silver; the causes of the depressed condition of the gold and silver mining industry in the United States; the production, reduction, refining, transportation, marketing, sale, and uses of gold and silver in the United States and elsewhere; and the effect of the decreased production of gold and silver upon commerce, industry, exchange and prices.

Don't Wait Until Everybody Wants a Car

There have been many times in automobile history when cars were hard to get. We can remember seasons when used cars were almost as much as new ones. In such times the real worth in a good used car is recognized, admitted and paid for.

Folks are buying more automobiles than ever before. The market is firm to say the least. These good used cars are just as good as that much gold in the mint. They may be worth more. Anyway you had better look them over at an early date. Come in any time.

EDISON-FORD PLAN UNFAIR TO FARMER

Third Article Shows How Credit Test Would Fail Him in His Need.

The unfairness to the farmer of the Edison-Ford "commodity money" scheme, although ostensibly aimed to improve his economic position, is discussed in the present article, which is the third in a series prepared by the American Bankers Association, reviewing the exposure of the weaknesses of the plan as presented by William T. Foster, Director of the Pollack Foundation for Economic Research.

Briefly, the plan, sponsored by Thomas Edison and Henry Ford, would provide for Government warehousing of basic commodities, against which currency would be loaned, during storage, to the producer without interest, up to half the average value of the products for the previous twenty-five years. On the other half of the value the producer would receive certificates which he could sell or use for bank loans.

Restricted Credit

In that provision allowing for Government loans only up to half the average value for twenty-five years Mr. Foster finds particular weakness in the scheme. He points out that prices have risen so high since 1896 that the farmer could borrow on most products much less than half the present value of the products—much less, in fact, than he could borrow directly from the banks. Loans on the other half the value, which would be on virtually a second mortgage basis, he says, would not be desirable for the banks.

"The plan is not fair even to farmers; it involves unjust discrimination," Mr. Foster says. "The Edison plan fixes the loan values of all products absolutely, uniformly and arbitrarily. It ignores the relative prospects of different commodity markets. Only by the merest chance would such a method give a fair loan valuation. Fifty per cent of the average price for the previous twenty-five years would be too high for some commodities and too low for most of them. With such details the Edison plan is not concerned.

Banks Fairer to Farmers

"The general practice of the banks is not only fairer to farmers, but it is sounder business. There is no justification for basing the loan value of anything upon average prices in past years. Sound banking practice looks to the future. A bank—for the protection of its depositors, if for no other reason—must consider above everything the prospects of getting its money back. And a farmer's prospects of repaying a loan from the sale of his product depend entirely on future prices, not at all on past prices. Last year's runs do not count in this year's game."

As to the claim that the Edison plan would curb speculation in farm products, Mr. Foster says:

"There is nothing in the Edison plan that would tend to abolish speculation. Even after the farmer had stored his products and obtained a loan from the Government, he would still be free to sell his products outright to speculators. The farmer would have all the inducements to sell that he has today, and speculators would have all the inducements to buy.

"Clearly, then, the Edison plan would not provide a money that is sounder than gold money; it would not provide a money less subject to fluctuation in value; it would not enable farmers to obtain larger loans than they can now obtain; it would not divorce agriculture from the banking system; and it would not eliminate speculation in farm products."

PAPER MONEY PIPE DREAMS

By JOHN OAKWOOD

Hitting the pipe seems like the greatest way in the world to get something for nothing,—a whole paradise full of joy for a few whiffs of opium smoke. But—

By the way, the big lure about fiat money is that it seems to promise about as much for nothing as a whiff on the pipe. They are just coming out of such a dream now in Germany.

Here is the way that German soft money dream goes. Say in 1913 a man put a ten year mortgage for 20,000 marks on his farm. Marks were then worth, in gold, about four to the dollar. The debt, therefore, was equivalent to about $5,000.

In the ten years since that debt was contracted, the German Government has published, so to speak, trillions of paper marks. What happened? What would happen to the price of eggs if they had a hen at Washington laying a billion eggs a day,—even if they put a government stamp on them saying eggs were worth a quarter a piece? German marks have gone down from four to the dollar to 120,000 to the dollar.

Here is where the pipe dream gets particularly good. The 1913 mortgage is now due.—20,000 marks are to be paid. Marks are quoted 120,000 to the dollar. Twenty-thousand marks, one-sixth of that, therefore equal one-sixth of a dollar,—16 2-3 cents. On the theory that "a mark is a mark," the debtor could wipe off his $5,000 mortgage for 16 2-3 cents,—less than the value of a dozen eggs.

That is, he can unless the pipe dream comes to a sudden end. For one thing the German courts are ruling that the theory "a mark is a mark" doesn't go,—that a debtor has to give back a fair equivalent for what he received and that present paper marks worth 120,000 to the dollar are not the fair equivalent of former gold marks at four to the dollar.

Furthermore all pipe dreams are too good to be true. They are not what they seem. The smoke is wearing off in Germany and they are coming down to earth with a dull thud. It is beginning to be realized that the net result of a paper money nightmare is that producers are robbed and speculators enriched. Farmers are unable to raise prices for their products fast enough to keep up with the falling purchasing power of unsound money. The value of such money slips away from them like a handful of dry sand. It brings back to them less in purchases than they gave of their products to get it.

The farmer as a result can't make ends meet and when he gets into difficulties the unsound money speculator steps in and buys up mortgaged farm lands cheap—and thus it is mostly the speculator who profits by paying off the mortgages with currency worth less than a dozen eggs.—unless the courts stop him.

More than that, if farm mortgage debt can be paid off with almost worthless currency, so can corporations pay off their bonded debt,—the bonds in which many a farmer's savings, and many a widow's and orphan's inheritance, are invested.

Before the war, with marks worth 24 cents gold, the deposits of the thrifty in German savings banks were worth over five billion dollars. Today, although these deposits have multiplied many fold in terms of marks, their real value is only about half a million dollars gold. That is what a "loose money" plan does for common folks.

Pipe dreams are wonderful while they last—but shattered health, misery and despair are the final penalty. The ones who profit are the dope sellers. Unsound money is a pipe dream—and the penalty is economic ruin, misery and despair for the majority. The ones who profit are the speculators.

"JUST LIKE DADDY," AN ECONOMIC FORCE

By J. H. PUELICHER

President the American Bankers Association.

J. H. Puelicher

"Like Daddy"—these two words, that express the imitative nature of children, occur to me as I think of our parental responsibilities in respect to both the thriftiness and the thriftlessness of our boys and girls. The accent belongs on both aspects of the case, for we have yet to find a person who is the perfect example of thrift.

Even Ben Franklin admitted his lack of attainment after his years of self-admonishment and self-criticism—and his temptations were not so great as those of today. Every reader will admit his deficiency in thrift. So will I. And what of our children? Will they copy us? Will their attitude toward thrift be "like Daddy's?" Will it be thrifty or thriftless?

It will at least be largely influenced by it. The thrift of the next generation is in the hands of the present. If our children are "out of hand" on their habits, whom have we to blame but ourselves?

Remember this: The next generation will be subject to the same laws of economics, the same rules of success, the same principles of happiness, as prevail today. A habit of thrift is one of the best possible characteristics we can mould into our children's natures during their habit-forming years. Its value will be apparent throughout maturity, whatever their lot, whether at the helm of large enterprise or steering the more humble affairs of a home.

Thrift will be the basic principle in the economic life of our nation and its system of producing and exchanging commodities. Thrift is always both of social and of individual advantage. Each day finds us expanding both in breadth and in depth of our resources of enjoyment and our opportunities for service as we practice thrift.

But how shall we bring about habits of thrift? Is there any other way than by teaching, whether by direct precept or by the unconscious example of our own habits, continually impressing themselves on the receptive minds of the young?

"Like Daddy" expresses one of the most powerful social and economic forces there is.

MR. AND MRS. ADAMS IN THEIR NEW HOME.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Adams, and Miss Rosemary Adams, are now occupying their handsome new home, at 1535 North State street, which has just been finished. ROCKDALE NEWS.

Rockdale, Texas, July 23.—C. O. Green was Saturday elected as superintendent of Rockdale Public School System to succeed J. M. Hodges, who has served through the 1922-23 term and had been re-elected. Mr. Hodges tendered his resignation to accept the position of principal of the Tyler High School. Mr. Green has been at Huntsville for several terms and had resigned to go to Angleton, but upon election here resigned the latter position. He served this school system as superintendent for 10 years, resigning 4 years ago, and was succeeded by G. M. Marshall, who served three terms and went from here to Grandview as superintendent.

Rockkdale, Texas, July 23.—W. K. Kyle, who is Milam County president of the Farm Bureau, states that the bureau's cotton market association feature is growing in favor with the farmers, and new members are signing up almost every day, he having signed up 14 new men this past week, each one pledging his entire cotton crop to be handled and sold by the association. Mr. Kyle was formerly president of the Farmers' Union of this county.

Rockdale, Texas, July 23.—County Commissioner Dick Hirston of the Rockdale road precinct, has issued warning to owners and drivers of tractors, that they must not attempt to drive their machines upon the public highways if they have the lugs attached, it being strictly contrary to the new State Highway laws for lugs to be left on the tarctor wheels when driven over the public roads. Hariston says the law will be strictly enforced as much damage has been done to surfaced roads by tractors in the past, which gave rise to the new law.

Rockdale, Texas, July 23.—This section for two or three days past, has been visited by heavy showers which have been of great benefit to cotton, this crop having begun to show signs of thirst. The showers will revive the droopy stalks and stop shedding which had begun in spots.

PANCHO VILLA, REBEL CHIEFTAIN IS SLAIN

El Paso, Tex., July 20.—Clues as to the identity of the slayers of Pancho Villa and his secretary, Miguel Trillo, have been found and friends of the slain general think it is but a matter of hours until the persons who planned and executed the ambuscade this morning will be captured. No announcements have yet been made concerning the identity of the suspected murderers. It is generally thought however, that General Villa was killed for political reasons.

General Villa and his secretary, Miguel Trillo, were killed at the same time this morning when they ran into an ambuscade while crossing the river Parral, according to reports received at Juarez by the National telegraph company of Mexico.

A fight followed the killing of Villa but the number of killed or wounded has not yet been determined.

General Eugenio Martinez left this morning with one hundred soldiers en route to Parral. No government action will be taken until Martinez has had a chance to make a complete investigation and report.

All advices coming from Paral declared Villa and his aide were killed at the same time and no blame for Villa's death is laid to Trillo.

Mexico City, July 20.—Francisco Villa, former rebel chieftman, was killed in ambush this morning near Parral in the state of Chihauhua, it was confirmed this afternoon by the department of the interior. President Obregon, it was announced, had ordered that full military honors be rendered at the funeral.

Villa and Trillo, with Villa's bodyguard, were on their way to Parral, the telegrams say, when a band of men attacked them, killing both Villa and Trillo and most of the guard. There were about twenty men who attacked Villa's party while crossing a small stream near Parral, according to the messages. A pitched battle between Villa's friends and enemies followed.

The telegrams also said that General Eugenio Martinez, commander at Chihauhua City and General Jose G. Escobar, commander at Toreon, were on their way with troops to the scene of the fight.

Some reports say Trillo fired the death shots at Villa while others say hostile forces killed Villa and Trillo at the same instant. All reports agree however, that a battle followed the assassination between men loyal to Villa and his enemies.

James B. Hamilton, American mining man and prominent citizen of Parral, Chihauhua, in a telegram received by the associated press in El Paso this afternoon, confirmed the report that Francisco Villa was killed. According to Hamilton, Miguel Trillo, Villa's secretary, was killed at the same time Villa was, when Villa and Trillo and their guard were attacked by an unfriendly band of men.

Trillo commanded the so-called "Golden Guards" that acted as a personal guard for Villa and was implicated in the Villa raid of the Ojinaga vicinity in 1917.

Trillo was formerly an automobile driver and joined Villa when the former rebel chief was in Chihauhua in 1916. He was about 27 years old and was a visitor in Juarez, just across the border from El Paso about one month ago.

A message from Chihauhua Friday morning said that Hipolito Villa, revolutionary figure and brother of Francisco, had left Chihauhua immediately after the report of the killing with an avowed intention of killing Trillo, who, however, had already been killed by other Villa factions.

Chihauhua City, Chi., Mexico, July 20.—One hundred troops under command of General Eugenio Martinez arrived at Parral tonight to hunt for assassins who killed Francisco Villa, his secretary, Miguel Trillo, and 3 men who were with them near Parral this morning. Troops from the command of General Jose Escobar are coming up from Torreon to help in the pursuit.

While the assasins are unidentified two theories are being worked on. Villa had many enemies, and probably hundreds of men have sworn to take his life, but he had no enemy as bitter, according to his friends, as Farncisco Herrea. Herrera hated Villa not without cause. Villa is claimed to have practically exterminated the Herrera family, at one time prominent in the military and political circles of Mexico.

Villa in 1914 had two generals who were brothers, Maclovio Herrera who commanded the left wing of the army and Melchor who commanded the right.

Melchor, who was former mayor of Juarez, killed mysteriously on the border. Circumstances were suspicious and friends of the Herrera family blamed Villa. This was in the latter part of 1914.

Maclovio, his father, Jose de la Luz Herrera, and a young Herrera were led to a grave yard in Parral on Easter morning in 1915 and executed. Villa was blamed for this.

Francisco was the only male member of the prominent family left, and swore revenge, it is said. Only last year Villa asked protection of the federal government from Herrera and his followers. Herrera is a government official at Gomez Palacio, Durango, not far from Parral.

The government, local government officials say, will question the possibility of Herrera's friends taking up the old feud for him.

It has been said often on the border that Villa has asserted that Mexico must not and would not have another president from Sonora.

Feeling here is intense, due to the possible political significance the assault on Villa may have. Some say that enemies of Villa and friends of possible presidential timber from Sonora could shed light on the killing.

THREE MEN ARRESTED AS SLAYERS OF VILLA.

El Paso, Tex., July 20—Three members of the band responsible for the death of General Francisco Villa, his secretary, Miguel Trillo, and two body guards, were captured late this afternoon by a detachment of federal soldiers under command of General E. Martinez a short distance from Parral, according to information received at Juarez military headquarters tonight.

General Villa, Minguel Trillo, his secretary, Rosalio Morales, one bodyguard and a bystander were killed in a fight in Parral early this morning. The killing was done by a band of seven men. Following the killing which is believed to have been the result of a political feud, a large number of Villa's followers started fighting with another faction, says a report received here.

General Martinez hastened to the scene from Chihuahua City and personally investigated the circumstances surrounding the killing ofGeneral Villa. Shortly after the arrival of General Martinez and a detachment of soldiers the three men were arrested and are being held in connection with the killing, according to information received by Alfonso Gomez, federal stamp tax collector in Juarez and former staff officer in Villa's army.

Colonel Dario W. Silva, former military secretary and close friend to General Villa received word tonight from Chihuahua City that the identity of the slayers had not been established.

CEASES OUTLAW CAREER

Francisco ("Pancho") Villa, guerrilla chieftain and bandit leader in Mexico for more than 10 years, declared that he had ended his career of outlawry in August, 1920, when, at the head of 900 followers, the remnant of what had once been his army of 35,000 men, he entered San Pedro, Coahuila, and amid the cheers of the populace, announced the intention of himself and his men of accepting amnesty and settling down as farmers.

A few weeks earlier, Villa had surrendered to federal forces at Sabinas. He then declared his adherence to Provisional President de la Huerta and General Alvaro Obregon, later elected president to succeed Carranza. Before capitulating Villa demanded and was granted by the Mexican government, one year's pay and a small farm for each of his men, a grant equal to $2,000,000 gold.

One of the most notable escapades of Villa was his raid on Columbus, N. M., on March 6, 1916, in which he and his followers killed 17 Americans. It resulted in a punitive American military expedition under General Pershing crossing the border and maintaining a "dead or alive" pursuit of Villa which lasted more than nine months and cost the United States government, according to a war department estimate nearly $100,000,000.

In a battle at Parral, American troopers were ambushed and a number of them killed. On march 31, however the bandit's followers were defeated at Guerrero. The Americans were successful in a number of other skirmishes and penetrated so far south in Mexico as to meet the constitutionalist troops of Carranza who, ostensibly, were also in pursuit of the renegade Mexican leader.

Villa, wounded but always eluding his pursuers, lived in a Chihuahua mountain cave for five weeks. It was located in the center of a perpendicular cliff that rose 150 feet from a brook on the level plain below and from this point Villa said he often watched the American troops. Many times he was reported dead. Upon the American army's withdrawal from Mexico Villa renewed his depredations. On April 4, 1916 he was indicted for first degree murder at Deming, N. M., on account of the Columbus raid.

"They call me a bandit and the worst man in Mexico," declared Villa when he was welcomed to San Pedro, Cohuila, "but I would preserve our nationality. I surrendered because further fighting in Mexico meant intervention by the United States. It is time for peace." In the manifesto he praised the "good faith, honor and patriotism" of Provisional President de la Huerta and declared it was his purpose to show the Mexican nation that he and his men could "build as well as destroy."

The former bandit went with his family from San Pedro to Las Nievas, Durango, to "settle down" on his farm there and shortly after wrote to de la Huerta for school books and supplies. Villa is said to have been deeply affected by the death of a daughter in San Antonio, Texas, a month after his surrender. Sixteen of his men, who were a number captured by Pershing and conicted of vorious offenses were pardoned by the governor of New Mexico in November, 1920.

The first real tragedy in Villa's life occurred when General Felipe Angeles was executed as a revolutionost by Carranza troops in 1919. Villa admired Angeles not only as a patriot and soldier, but regarded him almost as a father. He wept bitterly when he received word that Angeles had been shot. He threatened reprisals and later aided in the overthrow of the Carranza regime.

Villa's real name was Doreteo. He was born in 1868 of peon parentage in the little mining town of Las Nievas.

INTEGRITY Studebaker SERVICE

Announcement

THE STUDEBAKER CORPORATION OF AMERICA is pleased to announce to its customers, friends, and the public generally, its complete line of new

1924 Model Studebaker Cars

Avoiding the superlatives frequently used in automobile advertisements, the Corporation desires to faithfully state the facts concerning these cars and the reasons why the public should buy them.

THE CARS

In design, quality of materials, standard of workmanship, durability, refinements, performance, freedom from repairs, and price, the Studebaker 1924 Model Cars are distinctly the greatest intrinsic values the Corporation has ever offered.

Every improvement the safety and practicability of which have been verified by engineering tests is embodied in these new cars.

The Big-Six

THE BIG-SIX LINE comprises four models, mounted on the standard 126-inch chassis with 60 H. P. 3⅞ x 5 inch motor:

7-passenger Touring Car - $1750 5-passenger Coupe - $2550
5-passenger Speedster - $1835 7-passenger Sedan - $2750
all prices f. o. b. factory

Refinements and a few minor mechanical changes have been made in the Big-Six, which has established an enviable record for five years. Our large production accounts for its low price. It is a car of the highest grade, comparable to the best.

The Special-Six

THE SPECIAL-SIX LINE comprises four models mounted on the standard 119-inch chassis with 50 H.P. 3½x5 inch motor:

2-passenger Roadster - $1325 5-passenger Coupe - $1975
5-passenger Touring Car - $1350 5-passenger Sedan - $2050
all prices f. o. b. factory

Radiator, hood, cowl, and body changes have been made in the Special-Six, with minor mechanical changes and refinements in the chassis. The Special-Six has for five successive years added luster to the name STUDEBAKER. It is one of the most satisfactory and finest cars on the market. It is as good in every respect as the Big-Six, except that it is smaller, and costs less to produce, and therefore sells for less.

The Light-Six

THE LIGHT-SIX LINE comprises four models, mounted on the standard 112-inch chassis with 40 H.P. 3⅛x4½ inch motor:

3-passenger Roadster - $975 2-pass. Coupe-Roadster $1225
5-passenger Touring Car - $995 5-passenger Sedan - $1550
all prices f. o. b. factory

No body or mechanical changes except refinements have been made in the Light-Six. Over 130,000 Light-Sixes have been produced in the new, modern $30,000,000 Studebaker plant at South Bend, Indiana, under most economical and almost ideal manufacturing conditions. In our judgment, it stands out as the greatest value and the closest approach to mechanical perfection in moderate priced cars yet produced.

THE REASONS WHY

With $90,000,000 of actual net assets and $45,000,000 invested in plants, Studebaker has ample physical facilities to manufacture most economically.

Studebaker's organization of manufacturing executives, engineers, metallurgists, chemists, inspectors, and skilled mechanics is second to none in the industry. The design of Studebaker cars and the workmanship upon them conform to the highest principles of engineering standards and mechanical practice known to the industry.

Best of Materials Used

Studebaker cars contain the finest known grades of iron, steel, aluminum, tires, electrical equipment, glass, bearings, etc. No better materials for automobile manufacture exist. Sheet aluminum has but one-third the tensile strength of sheet steel, and consequently, Studebaker uses sheet steel for its bodies.

By the manufacture of drop forginge, castings, stampings and the machining, assembling and finishing of motors, axles, frames, transmissions, bodies, tops, etc., and the consequent elimination of middlemen's profits, coupled with lower overhead factory costs per car arising from quantity production and low commercial expenses, Studebaker's costs are kept at an economically low point possible of attainment only by manufacturers with vast physical and financial resources.

Bodies Unexcelled

The bodies of Studebaker cars are not excelled in quality of materials and craftsmanship, by any cars on the market. The Coupe and Sedan closed bodies are magnificent examples of the coach builder's art.

Merit Wins

The sales of Studebaker cars for the past six years have shown each and every year a progressive increase. 81,880 cars were sold in the first six months of 1923 as against 60,053 for the same period last year. Only products of merit can make such growth.

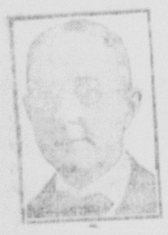
POWER COMFORT

KEEP AMERICA'S WAMPUM SOUND!

By SAMUEL H. BEACH,
President, Savings Bank Division, American Bankers Association.



S. H. Beach

Although the United States is today upon a solid gold basis, we nevertheless know of our own knowledge what inflation means. It would take long to recall in detail the bitter experiences which this nation suffered during the Civil War and the years which followed it, and in our present easy condition we might think such conditions could never again arise. But with such men as Henry Ford and Thomas A. Edison talking about commodity money there is no foretelling what may happen.

One of the plainest lessons taught by financial history is that whenever a nation issues paper money with nothing back of it, that nation is on the road to disaster. Look at Russia with its worthless rubles and Germany with its worthless marks. Think of what happened in France during the years immediately following our Revolutionary War.

The common people of France rose in their might, tore down the Bastile, and made reprisal for centuries of kingly crime and oppression. The profligate court had piled up taxes until they were unbearable. The enraged populace killed King Louis XVI, and also his queen, Marie Antoinette. But they only threw themselves out of the frying pan into the fire so far as finances were concerned.

Unsound Money Tyranny

At the very worst point of their currency inflation they found themselves under the absolute domination of Robespierre. In order to meet the growing scarcity of coin, paper money called assignats were issued. First 400,000,000 francs worth, then 800,000,000 were added with the distinct understanding that the 1,200,000,000 would be the full extent of the issue. This pledge was soon broken and further issues brought the total up to 3,700,000,000 francs.

Frightful depreciation was the inevitable result; and legislation was passed making it a crime, with six years' imprisonment as the penalty, if any one should refuse to take the paper assignats at their face value. Just think of it! A French peasant after working the entire year to produce a crop was compelled by law to accept payment for that crop in paper money, which he knew to be worthless, or go to prison.

It was simply legalized robbery. When the penalty was increased to twenty years imprisonment the inevitable climax came. The Reign of Terror was at its height. Robespierre was in supreme power. He suggested that more assignats be issued and if the people did not take them the guillotine should be the penalty.

Robespierre's End

This unheard of outrage was more than the people could stand. An unknown man arose on the floor of the convention and denounced Robespierre, reciting the heinous crimes he had committed, and so worked upon the feelings of the audience that Robespierre, the tyrant, became Robespierre, the convicted criminal. Two days later he was led to the guillotine. France had learned her financial lesson well—that money must have value back of it.

The fallacy of unsound money is sure to confront us again. Never is there enough of everything for all the people. The struggle for existence is a real struggle, and those who find themselves in the lower strata of human society are ready at any time to grasp at fiat money or any of the other things which misguided politicians hold out to them.

My whole purpose is to drive home the fact that danger lies ahead and to urge every one to let no opportunity go by to use voice and influence toward keeping the wampum of these United States, as it is today, the soundest currency in the world.

SOME BANK SALARIES

Investigations made by the Missouri Bankers Association have revealed that 368 banks in the state in towns of under 2,000 population are paying their cashiers and chief executives an average of only $110 a month. Only 273 of the 1,162 reporting banks in towns under 5,000 population pay the president a salary. The report says:

"It indicates that, even allowing for the economy of living in small communities, the cashiers and managing officers of those 1,162 banks, who receive an average of $140 per month, either must have personal means to begin with, or must maintain the standards necessary to their positions as the leaders of their communities and the builders of the commonwealth by means of 'side lines,' such as selling insurance, collecting commissions on farm loans, and trading in real estate."

PAT NEFF TO TAKE DRY BATTLE TO TAMMANY

TEXAS EXECUTIVE TO PLANT BANNER OF DRYS IN WET NEW YORK.

All the confidential friends of Governor Neff who are advised of his purpose to deliver a speech at the New York Chautauqua Assembly grounds, August 14, believe his address will challenge National attention.

That Mr. Neff will stress his well known views about the worth of the 18th Amendment and the Volstead law and defy opposition to both, is accepted as inevitable. In view of the record of Governor Smith of New York, a leading member of the political party to which Governor Neff is attached, and the further view of the similar attitude of a Republican Legislature of the same state, it is expected that anything the Governor of Texas says about the stand taken by the Governor of New York will be echoed from the hills of the Hudson to the vale of the Sacramento, in fact from the Androscoggin to Yuba Dam. And if Mr. Neff preaches in New York what he preaches in Texas there will be more of a political desert along the Albany trail than has been possible there of late.

What the Governor of North Carolina said to the Covernor of South Carolina is rather historic. It used to be quoted more frequently than it is now—in Texas, if not in New York. But just at this moment engages the thought of Governor Neff's personal friends is what the Governor of Texas is going to say to the Governor of New York. Fact that the terse conversation alleged to have occurred between the executives of the Carolinas had its source in meditation of the same spirit that does not make Pat Neff and Al Smith kindred, adds to the interest.

Word has been sent to the Governor's office—it came while T. W. Davidson was acting governor—that the Texas Chief Executive is to have the Chautauqua field alone and to himself, so far as Governors go. That redoubtable twister of the tails of the octopus and dusty "dry," Governor Giffird Pinchot if Pennsylvania, wsa invited to speak at the same time as Neff is to appear. Pinchot had advised the Chautauqua authorities that an unexpected development of a highly important nature will prevent his appearance at Chautauqua at any time during the summer.

Whether Pinchot, who is something of a political partisan, didn't relish the idea of what might be construed as a speech coinciding in the widely known views if the Democratic Governor of Texas, or whether political diplomacy demands his presence at Harrisburg, or whether as he politely states, business prevents acceptance of the invitation to make a non-partisan speech in New York, are subjects of which Austin knows little and cares less. As a matter of fact Governor Neff, having formally agreed to go to the Chautauqua, August 14, is not believed to care a rap whether there is any other orator of any type in the Empire state while he is there.

Since the acceptance of the Chautauqua bid, other invitations to make addresses have been showered on Governor Neff. It is deemed probable though he himself has not finally decided, that some of them will be accepted. One of them is a political occasion at a great gathering in Chicago—a Democratic powwow. In all, he may make three or four speeches while away from Texas.

But the Chautauqua effort, thought certainly to be a defense of the National prohibition act and the need of the same kind of law in all the commonwealths, together with a challenge to carry on with all, is expected to occupy most of his attention and most of his heart. The fact that anything about prohibition is considered to be very much alive politically and to have direct bearing on the presidential campaign of 1924, may materially add to the importance of the Texan's expression.

That the tour of Governor Neff may be pregnant with political possibilities is sensed by many. If he, for example, delivers in New York the same speech he made to the people of Floresville, December 30, last, that is, the same sort of a speech, and with the same bite of his words there will be lifted eyebrows and quickened hearts.

If the Democratic party wants to be "drier" than President Harding's Denver speech, it could follow no surer or quicker way than the nomination of Pat M. Neff for President. Of course, the "ifs" are there. But they were also in the pathway of Abraham Lincoln prior to his addresses against slavery. Utterance of a dozen words caused the nomination of Lincoln and later caused his election.

The nomination of any Texan for President of the United States lack much of being a probability. But nothing is certain until it is over, finished and done. In all liklihood, such a thing as his own selection next year for the presidency, has never entered his mind. But there is the zeal of Oliver Cromwell, and that great Englishman's sternness, in Governor Neff's devotion to prohibition. He may kindle a blaze at Chautauqua that will be hard for the wets to liquid out. Who knows?

The second jaunt of the Texas Governor, following closely after his first, is arousing keen interest among Texans on another score. T. W. Davidson brought in many bales of political hay and several "sides" of political bacon while Neff was enjoying American enterprise in the Canal Zone. Will there be another opportunity for Davidson to seize while Neff is touring the North? Governor Neff is expected to leave August 10 and to be away 10 days or two weeks.

MEXICAN SHOT TO DEATH BY SAN GABRIEL FARMER

RODNEY CRAVY SURRENDERS FOLLOWING SHOOTING PEDRO BARRONES

Rodney Cravy, a prominent farmer of the San Andres community on the San Gabriel river, nine miles northeast of Rockdale, shot and killed a Mexican named Pedro Barrones at the Cravy barn yesterday morning shortly after daylight. Cravy immediately came to town and surrendered. He waived examining trial before Justice Gunn and was bound over to the grand jury under $1000 bond which he immediately made.

Judge Gunn went out to the Cravy farm and held an inquest. He informs the Reporter that he found the Mexican had been shot while he was engaged in shucking corn in the Cravy corn crib. A double barrel shot gun had been used. One charge entered the Mexican's shoulder, while the other tore away his entire face and fully one-half of his head. The dead man's brains were spattered all over the crib.

From the evidence adduced by Judge Gunn at the inquest it seems that the Mexican was considered by Cravy as an interloper in his domestic affairs, and the killing was not entirely a surprise to those acquainted with the situation. The Mexican had formerly worked for Cravy, but had gone away to Mexico, and only returned to the community the night previous to his death. —Rockdale Reporter.

NOTICE IN PROBATE

STATE TO TAKE OVER HIGHWAYS JANUARY 1

FAILURE OF HIGHWAY AMENDMENTS WILL NOT AFFECT THE FUNDS

R. M. Hubbard, Chairman of the State Highway Commission, speaking for the entire Commission, stated today that the failure to publish in time the proposed constitutional amendment, would in no way affect the funds of the State Highway Department for the next three years, and that it would not interfere with the present program of the highway construction or maintenance, and that all unexpired Federal appropriations including those for 1924 and 1925 would not be endangered. Mr. Hubbard stated emphatically, that the Highway Commission would carry out its plans, and the will of the legislature in maintaining all state highways, and to further carry on the construction work as rapidly as possible. "We will continue in the future, as we have in the past, to cooperate with the various counties of the state in the construction of a state system of highways," continued Mr. Hubbard. Mr. Hubbard authorized the following tsatement:

"There is no need of undue alarm at this time on account of our failure to secure the proposed amendment to the constitution, for fear we will lose Federal Aid. The main idea the proponents of the amendment had in mind was to comply with the provisions of the Federal Aid Act as early as possible, in order that Texas might continue to receive the hearty cooperation of the Federal Government, and in order that we would have ample time to make the necessary adjustments in our statutes. The amended Federal Aid Act gives us until November 9, 1926, to comply with the provisions of the Act, requiring the State to provide State Funds for the construction and maintenance of Federal Aid roads, such funds to be under the direct control of the State, provided, however, that we carry out the provisions of this Act as nearly as our existing Constitution and laws will permit.

The recent Legislature directed the State Highway Department to take over the maintenance of all state highways, and provided funds therefor. It is the intention of the State Highway Commission to carry out these directions to the fullest extent. We are making our plans to take over the maintenance of all roads in the state highway system January 1, 1924, and unless something more far-reaching in effect than the failure of the Constitutional Amendment takes place, we will carry out those plans.

The State Highway Commission will continue to co-operate with the various counties of the state in the construction of the state highways. We will continue to aid them in the future as we have in the past, but on a larger scale, due to the fact that the 38th Legislature provided additional funds for this purpose. These increased funds will be used to good advantage by increasing the allotments to those progressive counties that have provided county funds for the purpose of constructing more durable roads. This will be a distinct advantage to these counties. A connected state system is only delayed. In this connection we would like to state that the Legislature in submitting the proposed amendment, and the Texas Highway Association, and the Texas Highway Comcission in advocating it, had not the remotest idea of proposing at this time an increase to the tax burdens of our state.

The advocates of this Amendment take sharp issue with those who contend that the adoption of the amendment would have been prejudicial to the educational interests of Texas. In fact, the staunchest supporters of the educational program in the last Legislature were the strongest supporters of the highway legislation, including the Amendment. It is true that if the Amendment had been adopted the Legislature could levy a gasoline tax, exclusively for the road building purposes. Under our present constitution one fourth of the gasoline tax, which was primarily intended as a road tax to be paid by the consumer, must go to the school funds. Many of the stronges friends of education believe it is unjust to tax the automobile owner in this special manner for educational purposes. They believe that the gasoline tax is a just and equitable road tax, and that it should be used for this purpose exclusively. Under our present Constitution even the three fourths of the funds realized from the gasoline tax have to be appropriated every two years by the Legislature for road construction. The amendment would have made it possible to make it a settled policy of the state for the money raised by this tax to go to the road funds.

It is a regretable fact that the proposed amendment was not published in proper time, but it is possible that the failure to publish the amendment at this time will eventually result in good. Unfortunately in the rush of the closing hours of the 38th Legislature, the proposed Amendment was not worded as carefully as it should have been, and we feel that the next regular session of Legislature will submit to the people an Amendment carefully drawn and unambiguous in its terms.

An essential factor in successfully carrying out any road building program is that of forming a definite program extended over a period of years and the burden of financing this program be placed equitably upon the shoulders of those who benefit by good roads. The next most essential factor is that these funds be placed in, and the duty of supervision imposed upon the proper agency. We wish to impress upon the public that if we do not want to see millions of dollars in the shape of Federal Aid lost in the state in the future, and if we ever expect to see a connected state system of roads radical changes in our methods of road construction must be made prior to November 9, 1926.

A. N. GREEN VICE-PRES OF TEXAS EXPOSITION

CAMERON BANKER ACCEPTS HONORARY PLACE IN ORGANIZATION

Austin, Texas, July 23.—A. N. Green, president of the First National Bank of Cameron, Texas, has been elected honory vice-president of the Texas State Exposition at Austin, October 1 to 6, and has accepted the position.

This is the second year of the Texas State Exposition at Austin, the large fair having been inaugurated here last year under the name of the Central Texas Fair. Efforts are being made to make the fair statewide, and exhibits from a large number of the smaller fairs in the state will be shown at the Texas State Exposition.

Horse races will form an added attraction at the Fair in Austin this fall. This is the first time in twenty-five years that the races have been held in Austin at a fair, and the running and the harness events, combined with the horse show and rodeo will be an interesting attraction.

Besides the usual attractions of a big fair, specialties of the Austin fair will be homeland exhibits, composed of articles made in foreign countries and owned by Texans, labor-saving devices, the kennel department, the All-West Texas exhibit, band music by the University of Texas band and two hours of free entertainment afternoons and evenings.

The main part of the Texas State Exposition will be held in the S. M. A. Buildings in Austin, where the Central Texas Fair was held last year. The horse races will be held at Camp Mabry.

AWAITING SENTENCE CONVICTED MAN HERE TURNS POET IN JAIL

While reflecting over his lot as a coming prisoner in the state penitentiary Johnny Shavers, convicted on burglary in connection with the Thorndale jobs, wrote a poem which he gave to Deputy Sheriff Hartsfield and which is as follows:

There is hope in a place however dark,
There is hope in a prison cell;
'Twas hope that lighted up Noah's Ark
'Till the raging waters fell;
And there is never a breast so black and bare,
But the spark of hope is glistening there.

There is hope wherever the place may be,
There is hope in the darkened room;
Hope on the storm-tossed angry sea,
And hope at the loved one's tomb;
And there is never a heart so sorely torn
But can cherish the hope of a brighter morn.

Hope can shine through a grey stone wall,
And bars strong and stout,
And hope can answer the faintest call,
And no power can shut it out;
Though a man may be shackled and locked away,
Hope sings to him a better day.

For hope will follow the will to be,
And go with the will to do;
And there is none so low in this world
But may fashion his life anew;
For hope shall shine through the darkened day
'Till the last brave man shall have passed away.

—Composed by Johnie Shavers, while in jail May, 1923.

HAVE DARK HAIR AND LOOK YOUNG

Don't Stay Gray. Nobody can tell when you darken gray, faded hair with Sage Tea and Sulphur

Grandmother kept her hair beautifully darkened, glossy and attractive with a brew of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Whenever her hair took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied, with wonderful effect. By asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, all ready to use, at very little cost. This simple mixture can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says everybody uses Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied—it's so easy to use, too. You simply dampen a comb or soft brush and draw it through the hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, it is restored to its natural color, and looks glossy, soft and beautiful.

BURIED ALIVE

We have heard of "happy hunting grounds" for many things, but the storage battery graveyard is the latest.

Mr. A. E. Schiller of the local Exide Service Station, when telling us of this said, "If folks could realize the cost of the batteries that are thrown into the graveyard before their time—that they are buried alive—they would be more careful with their own.

Many times batteries are brought to my attention that are only a few months old, yet so far beyond repair that they must be "buried." And just a little care during their lives would have preyented it.

This is generally caused by negligence or home treatment for some suspected ailment.

If folks want to take care of their own batteries, they should first visit the service station of some reliable manufacturer and learn how battery men are glad to furnish this information.

When they do this there will be fewer batteries "buried alive" in the storage battery graveyard.

To avoid penalty, returns and payment must be made on or before July 31, 1923, of the miscellaneous occupational taxes, the special tobacco manufacturers tax and the special tax on the use of boats, provided for by the Revenue Act of 1921.

The question of exemption is one for determination by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue.

MEDICINAL VIRTUES RETAINED AND IMPROVED—DANGEROUS AND SICKENING QUALITIES REMOVED PERFECTED TABLET CALLED "CALOTABS"

The latest triuph of modern science is a "de-nauseated" calomel tablet known to the drug trade as "calotabs." Calomel, the most generally useful of all medicines thus enters upon a wider field of popularity,—purified and refined from those objectionable qaulities which have heretofore limited its use.

In biliousness, constipation, headaches and indigestion, and in a great variety of liver, stomach and kidney troubles calomel was the most successful remedy, but its use was often neglected on account of its sickening qualities. Now it is the easiest and most pleasant of medicines to take. One Calotab at bedtime with a swallow of water,—that's all. No taste, no griping, no nausea, no salts. "INTERNATIONAL BANKER" A MYTH

Otto H. Kahn Refutes Idea That Foreign Finance Activities Dull Allegiance to America.

BANKING REFLECTS BUSINESS

"International Farmer" and Other Business Men Who Sell to Foreign Markets Create Demand for International Financial Service.

The idea that bankers engaged in financing foreign trade and in handling foreign bond flotations are a particular cult of "international bankers" actuated by motives differing from those of other bankers was refuted recently by Otto H. Kahn of New York, in an address before the Rochester Chamber of Commerce.

"There is no such thing as an 'International Banker' in America, as the meaning of the term is generally understood," Mr. Kahn said. "He exists in the imagination of people all too numerous, but he does not exist in the flesh. You might just as well speak of the 'International Farmer' because the farmer sells a certain percentage of his crops to Europe, or of the 'International Manufacturer.'

"The banker maintains, and can maintain, international contact, and conduct international business, only to the extent that American industry, commerce and agriculture are international. True, the banker must take within his purview continuously the conditions of affairs and the current of things throughout the world, but so must the exporter and importer, and so must the farmer take into account the prices and tendencies of the world market in Liverpool.

Banking Mostly Home Business

"The American banker's market is the home market. His success is conditioned upon the capacity and willingness of the American investor to absorb the securities which he offers. His very existence depends upon the confidence and co-operation of the public and of his fellow-bankers—and any banker whose activities would justly create the impression that he was actuated by cosmopolitan rather than by American interests would very soon lose that confidence and following.

"The business which he does for his own account in, with, or for Europe is inconsiderable as compared to the business he does in America. His principal functions in relation to Europe are to provide the requisite banking facilities for export and import and for travelers. That part of his functions which consists in financing loans of foreign governments or industries has hitherto been, with sporadic exceptions, of relatively inconsiderable proportions as compared to the vastness of the volume of his transactions in financing American industry, commerce and enterprise.

Necessity for Foreign Credits

"In saying this, I do not mean to imply that there is anything that calls for apology in the floating of foreign loans in America and in the loaning of American funds to Europe, provided such loans are considered sound as to security and are made for legitimate, constructive purposes. Indeed such loans ought to, and I believe will be made in increasing measure, when conditions in Europe will have become such as to warrant it.

"It is manifest that the promotion of our export trade, including, of course, the export of farm products requires us, under the circumstances as they now are and are likely to remain for some time, to aid the purchasing power of other nations by extending to them financial facilities to a reasonable extent.

"It is the function of the banker to be instrumental in carrying out such transactions. In doing so, he is the means of serving a useful national purpose, just as he served a useful, indeed a highly important national purpose, in being the means of attracting and bringing European capital to America in former years when conditions were reversed and such capital was nothing less than vital to the development of this country and the realization of its opportunities."

FOR SOUND MONEY

Senator Oddie of Nevada, chairman of the United States Senate commission to investigate the problems of gold and silver mining, has allayed the fear that Western Senators, in their zeal to aid the cause of silver, might launch an unsound money wave. "I am for sound money," Senator Oddie says. "There is no thought of bimetalism or departing from the gold standard. We desire to help the great mining industry, but not through the creation of an unsound currency."

The commission is to study and report on the causes of the continuing decrease in the production of gold and silver; the causes of the depressed condition of the gold and silver mining industry in the United States; the production, reduction, refining, transportation, marketing, sale, and uses of gold and silver in the United States and elsewhere; and the effect of the decreased production of gold and silver upon commerce, industry, exchange and prices.

CAMERON COMMERCIAL CLUB.

The Cameron Commercial Club held on interesting and well-attended meeting Friday night. Roll call showed the following to be present: Officers: C. W. Lawrence, president; Moulton Cobb, secretary; Directors: R. H. McIntosh, T. S. Henderson, Jr. and W. O. Newton; Committee Chairmen: J. W. Coleman, W. M. Cobb, F. R. Dunlap, Giles L. Avriett, C. R. Phillips, W. G. Gillis, F. S. Lesovsky and F. E. Jackson.

Minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

Giles L. Avriett, chairman of the good roads committee, reported that they were going to build the Clarkson road from Boecker's corner to Voglesang's corner, and wanted authority from the club to raise $50.00 more for this project if deemed necessary. He explained that about $400 was left over of the fund subscribed to build the Jones Prairie road and that this amount was being matched by the people of this section for the completion of the Clarkson road. Upon motion from J. W. Coleman and seconded by W. G. Gillis, the good roads committee was authorized to raise approximately $50 for this purpose if essential.

Mr. Avriett further stated that the state highway department would be financially able to maintain its designated highways, and suggested that a petition asking for an election to vote a $100,000 bond issue to rebuild the Ad Hall-Minerva road be circulated. He stated that this road would avoid the bottom on the other side of Little River. Part of this money would go to connect up adjacent roads, too, he stated. His plan met with universal approval.

In answer to the question, Mr. Avriett said that the Lilac-Thorndale road was largely a matter of construction. Several reported that this road was now being repaired in certain places.

F. E. Jackson of the Agricultural committee reported that he had distributed about 150 government bulletins on the subject of grafting pecans.

The work of the Milam County's new home economics demonstration agent was highly praised by several members of the club.

The attention of those present was directed to agriculture. T. S. Henderson, Jr., declared many farmers were burning certain kinds of lights to extinguish the leaf worms. He pointed out that the farmers in neighboring sections were resorting to this method and that it might be profitable for our farmers to adopt this method. F. E. Jackson said to take a fruit jar and fill it full of oil, using a rope as a wick. He stated to put the jar in a pan of water. The light would attract the insects and they would fall into the water. He declared this to be very effective.

Upon motion, George Banzhaf, county demonstration agent, was invited to address the farmers in Cameron concerning the importance and most effective method of fighting the leaf worm.

T. S. Henderson, Jr., said that soon he would have a report to make on the plans for the economic soil survey for Milam county. He said he was going to A. & M. College next week to confer with Mr. Youngblood on the matter. He solicited the hearty co-ooperation of the club and indicated that the expense of the survey would amount to $2,000 or $3,000. F. S. Lesovsky ventured that the amount could be raised. R. H. McIntosh who presided over the meeting, stated that a campaign would be waged to educate our people on the importance of the soil survey.

J. W. Coleman said that the home economic agent wanted $15.00 last week to send two of Milam county's girl sto College Station and that this amount was advanced. The Club assented to Mr. Coleman's action.

Drink Water If Kidneys Bother

Take a Tablespoonful of Salts if Back Pains or Bladder is Irritated

Flush your kidneys by drinking a quart of water each day, also take salts occasionally, says a noted authority, who tells us that too much rich food forms acids which almost paralyze the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood. They become sluggish and weaken; then you may suffer with a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sours, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get sore and irritated, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night.

To help neutralize these irritating acids; to help cleanse the kidneys and flush off the body's urinous waste, get four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy here. Take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days, and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in the system so they no longer irritate, thus often relieving bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; can not injure and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.

TWENTY-EIGHT YEARS AGO

(From the files of the Herald)

Belton Reporter has this suggestion on the coinage question: A comparison of the relative production of the two metals and a long experience teach us, we think, that 16 to 1 is the ratio at which silver and gold should be coined.

The Galveston News intimates that it is inclined to modify views expressed: The News is opposed to mob violence and has always argued faithfully for law in the court house. The News admits, however, that it is without weapons or arguments in cases where courts, juries, and witnessess have deliberately turned out upon a community assassins and ravishers to repeat their fiendish work at will.

The Brenham Banner commends the following paragraph from Clevelands recent epistle: "Nothing more important can engage the attention of patriotic citizens than the dissemination of sound financial ideas, because nothing is so vital to the welfare of our fellow countrymen, and to the strength, prosperity and honor of our nation."

Last Monday afternoon Messrs. J. C. Evans, Tom Peel, Sam Streetman, Tom Sampson and Berry Roberts went down to Cedar Creek to spend a few days on a deer hunt.

Mr. W. V. Hefley is having his country home improved by putting up additional room and otherwise beautifying the place.

Last Sunday afternoon Messrs. C. A. Pitts, Heck Ellis, Dude Chambers, R. Y. and H. H. Stedman and Gus Evans went over to Shafer's Well and spent an hour or two drinking that delicious water and eating a dinner fit for a "King."

J. E. Reno is building a nice iron front brick business house on Belton street next door to the Horstmann building.

Mrs. J. S. Letcher of Dallas, accompanied by her son and daughter this week visited her father, Hon. W. W. Oxsheer and sister Mrs. H. F. Smith.

The popular and well known salesman, Mr. Sam Houston who for so many years has played the agreeable behind the counters in Cameron, has accepted a position with Cheeves Brothers & Co., where he will be glad to meet his numerous friends and to serve them to the best of his ability.

Mr .and Mrs. Burns Bever now occupy their handsome new residence near the park.

Camp Ben McCulloch held their annual reunion at Rockdale this week Maj. Moore and others left for there via the Sap Tuesday morning and carried with them the Company's beautiful banner.

Eggs are selling in Cameron at a nickle a dozen.

This year Rev. J. W. Cosby raised on the old county poor farm in the northern suburbs of the city, 250 bushels of Irish potatoes on three quarters of an acre of land. Who can beat that?

A movement is on foot in Cameron and it is supported by bright promises of success to organize a county fair association. We are informed that excellent grounds can be purchased from Mr. Tom Sampson near the city and that the enterprise will soon assume tangible shape. There is nothing that would add more to material interests of the county than a county fair.

BAD MAN OF BOOZE RING IS SHOT BY TEX. RANGER

RANGER M. N. KOONSMAN WAS PARTNER OF HOLTZCLAW IN OIL FIELDS.

Ranger M. N. Koonsman who shot and killed H. C. (Doc) Snow, bad man of the Wichita Oil fields and slayer of two civilian officers, was a friend and companion of J. E. Holtzclaw, former city marshal of Cameron, who spent most of last year in the oil fields near Wichita Falls.

Mr. Holtzclaw recently returned from Wichita Falls where he was engaged as a peace affficer in connection with guarding irrigation dam property. While there he was closely associated with Ranger Koonsman and has written him a letter deploring the trouble but expressing satisfaction that Koonsman is defendant instead of deceased.

Wichita Falls, Texas, July 22.—H. C. (Doc) Snow, 40 was shot and killed late Saturday at a rooming house in the Freeman-Hampton pool. The shooting took place during a raid in the oil field. Four bullets took effect in Snow's body.

Ranger M. N. Koonsman went to Archer City and surrendered to the sheriff.

Snow was tried two years ago and given a 20-year sentence in connection with the slaying of two deputies who were killed in a raid on a gambling house in the Kemp-Munger-Allen field. The case was reversed and remanded and Snow had been out on bond since that time.

STOPPING THEM IN A HUMANE MANNER.

Officers who sometimes find themselves in this sort of predicament might profit by a recent experience by Sheriff Drue S. Rogers while carrying an insane Mexican to San Antonio asylum. The sheriff had proceeded to a short distance past San Marcos when the Mexican who was being watched by others in the car jumped from the car.

The big sheriff grabbed the Mexican catchingg his shirt. The Mexican got free and the big race was on. Straight away down the road the Mexican tore at something like nothing flat with the rotund sheriff in persuit.

Presently the Sheriff got an idea. He pulled his gun and fired into the air causing the Mexican to turn quickly and to stumble and fall to the ground. At this moment a party of officers returning from San Antonio pitched in to help Rogers who was having a lively tussel with the man. Ater much effort the man was subdued without injuries and carried on.

W. J. WALKER GOES TO KILLEEN TO BECOME SUPERINTENDENT.

Supt. W. J. Walker of Chilton, Texas has recently been elected Superintendent of the Killeen schools, and has accepted because the latter position offers a larger field for service and constructive leadership. Mr. Walker will carry to his new position a large erperience, having been very successful as a superintendent in other good schools. Mr. Walker will be remembered by his Cameron friends because of his long connection with the schools of our city.

Mr. Walker's work at Chilton will always be appreciated by the good people of that town. Within two years time the school was developed from an ordinary country school without classification and affiliation to a well regulated town school. He was instrumental in securing for them a new brick High School building with modern equipment of every kind.

Killeen is one of the five best schools in Bell county situated in fine section of country on the Santa Fe, eighteen miles from Belton, among the most refined and cultivated people of the county. The Herald congratulates Mr. Walker upon his promotion and commends him unreservedly to the good people of Killeen, his new home.

LONG NARROW STREET CALLED "BROADWAY" NEW YORK FROM THE AIR

Looking north from the Battery, New York City, as far as the human eye could ever reach, the camera has rivaled its perception. In this photo can be seen the long narrow canyon of commerce and finance, towered by steel mountains built by the science of man—the street called Broadway. From left to right of the photo can be seen a contrast of the old and the new, the small structures and the new steel towers. The circle in the center just below the photo is Bowling Green, and the U. S. Customs House. The Standard Oil Company Building. THE JUNIOR COMETS PLAY.

On last Sunday evening the Junior Comets composed of Cameron's best junior players, fought a hard battle on the Rogers field of this city. Neither side had any permanent name but captains of the opposing sides were Wiley and Green. Captain Wiley's team lost, but it was a hard battle. Capt. Green pitched his famous "Une" Young, while Capt. Wiley had many pitchers in the box. The score at the end of the fourteenth ending was 12 to 20 in favor of Capt. Green. The features of the game was "Tubby" Flinn's graceful base stealing, "Smoky McCown's hard slugging and "Stakedriver" Hearrell's home run on a lost ball just outside the infield. The home-run Kings were Underwood, Cheeves and Hearrell. The batteries were Young, Harden Underwood for Green and Baggett, Joynes, Plaster and Rogers for Wiley. The umpires were Harden, Cheeves and Tag.

"WHERE TEXAS MARTYRS REST"

Monument Hill overlooks the beautiful valley of the Colorado river in Fayette county. Practically the entire citizenship of Texas gathered around a tomb on this hill in 1848, held a memorial service and tenderly laid to rest the seventeen men who drew the black beans of death at Hasiendo Salado, in Cohuilla, Mexico. These seventeen heroes were with the ill-fated Mier expedition that in 1843 entered Mexico under command of Captain Fisher and were victims of Mexican treachery.

Texas history is replete with names of courageous men who died for the state's freedom—magninimous souls—and may they never be forgotton by the younge rgenerations.

Read the story in the Cameron Herald Magazine section of August 9th and then pass it on to your children that they may know of men who gave their lives for Texas liberty and independence.

"PASSING OF THE BIG RANCHES"

From cattle herds to waving grain fields is a wonde ful transformation brought about during the last few years in Texas by cutting the big ranches into small farms. The Capitol Syndicate Ranch numbered nine hundred square miles and was, in all liklihood, the largest stock ranch in the world.

You can read all about this in the Cameron Herald Magazine section of August 9th.

We want several hundred more subscribers. You can help us to get them by bragging a little bit about our newspapers and telling your friends and neighbors of such good articles as the "Passing of the Big Ranches," etc. We are always happier when we pass on a good thought or a good story to our neighbor. If your neighbor is not a subscriber to the Cameron Herald, pass on to him the story of the big ranches. He will enjoy reading it and other good stories, and the next time he is in town he will come around to our office and pay us for a year's subscription.

OWNER LOOKS TO DEALER FOR LOW OPERATING COST

"Car owners are looking more and more to the dealer for the essentials of low operating costs," says G. C. White of Hhite-House Motor Co.

As soon as a man buys a car he becomes the prospect for almost innumerable dealers in parts, accessories, shop work, adjustments and advice. These all expect to make a profit out of the operating expense of the owner.

"The motorist today expects the dealer who sells him the car to keep all the necessities of service at the car owner's command, at the lowest possible price that specialized knowledge and real efficiency can provide.

"The big difference between the conscientious dealer and all other sources is that the dealer is interested in keeping down maintenance cost, and the others are keeping it up."

"THE MEDINA LAKE."

One of the beauty spots along the Medina river in Southwest Texas is Medina Lake, known throughout the state as a fisherman's retreat and a great irrigation project. Mr. W. L. Dubose, owner of the Devine News, Devine, Texas, has written the story of Medina Lake and it will appear in The Cameron Herald on August 9th.

When you read Mr. Dubose's story you will want to drop all work at once, grab your rod and reel and start for this lake. Nature is still primitive, to a great extent, along the Medina Valley, and invites recreation in cool, hidden recesses and verdant splendor.

Rheumatism Gone Says Howard; Gains 40 Lbs.

"If you ask me, Tanlac is the best medicine made and everyone who has taken it on my recommendation thinks the same as I do," recently said Ed Howard, 2324 Market Ave, Fort Worth, Texas.

"About two year sago the flu left me aching all over and with rheumatism so bad in the shoulders and legs that every move I made hurt me. Even my sleep was all broken up. My stomach got out of fix, I lost my appetite and fell off thirty-five pounds in weight. I could hardly drag myself around and felt like I was pretty near done for.

"Tanlac ended all my troubles, even to the rheumatism, built me up forty pounds in weight and made me feel like a different man. Ever since then, I've felt fine except occasionally when I get a little rundown. However, Tanlac has never failed yet to build me right up and I'll never be without a bottle of it on hand."

T. S. HENDERSON SPEAKS TO MEETING OF PIONEERS

GATHERING OF PIONEERS IS NOTABLE EVENT IN ROUND ROCK

Hon. T. S. Henderson of Cameron delivered an address at the convention of the old settlers in Round Rock on last Friday.

J. A. Buchanan, representative in Congress from this district, also delivered an address at the Williamson County Old Settlers encampment at Round Rock Friday night before a crowd estimated at between 4,000 and 5,000 people. He reviewed conditions in the old South, especially during the Civil war and the days of reconstruction, comparing the devastation of that time with the progress and highly developed conditions of today, saying that it was the old settlers of the South who had borne the burden and worked out the wonderful redemption for the country.

The Shriners bands from Ben Hur Temple at Austin furnished fine music. The old fiddlers' contest was a popular feature of the program. the players being John S. Rogers, Taylor; Frank Whitney, Salado; Sim Chapman, Bishop; Tom Avery, Rice Crossing; Dicv Lowden, Austin; Kit Newman, Corpus Christi. The ages of the fiddlers ranged from 68 to 83.

The Virginia reel and other old-fashioned dances once familiar pastimes, were danced Friday night by a company of young people conducted by Miss Helm, to show the present generation something of the grace, dignity and fun of the dances of their grandparents. The big crowd gathered so closely around, so deep was the interest, that the dances were finally forced to stop for lack of space.

Showers of rain interfered somewhat with the program Saturday, as far as outsiders were concerned, but the campers on the ground apparently enjoyed to the utmost every phase of the outing. The encampment will close Monday, and there are numerous good numbers on the program for the next two days.

NEGRO IS FOUND DEAD; MURDER YET UNSOLVED

OFFICERS UNABLE TO GET CLUE TO THE SLAYING OF ROBT. WILLIAMS

Officers investigating the murder of Robert Williams, whose body was found last Thursday near San Gabriel, have so far been unable to get a clew to the mysterious murder.

The man had been killed by a charge of heavy shot which had torn away the whole of the back part of his head. From signs in the vicinity Sheriff Drue Rogers concluded that Williamms had been killed while traveling in the road, and his body then dragged away and thrown into the brush, but by whom there is yet no clew developed. The sheiff and deputies are working on the case. Williams, who worked for a farmer named Brown in the Sharp-San Gabriel section, was seen last in Rockdale Saturday, July 14.

From Rockdale comes the report that Constable John Fleming had arrested a negro there on Friday and was detaining him as a suspect in connection with the crime. Constable Fleming was advancing the theory that the negro was shot as an outgrowth of trouble resulting from gambling, having made a number of arrests in that section.

FILING OF LEASES MAY BRING BIG DEVELOPMENT

U. S. TEX COMPANY GETS BIG BLOCK NEAR BRANCHVILLE IN MILAM

With the filing of additional leases by C. W. Tyson of Jones Prairie for the U. S. Tex Oil Company of Dallas, oil men here believe that a big development campaign will be undertaken in that section of the county and around Branchville.

The U. S. Tex people took over more than a year ago, the 5,000 to 6,000 acreage block and the derrick, from the Milam-Mxia Syndicate with the drilling contract for a 35,000 foot test. Rentals have been paid up, and this last leaseholding recorded gives the Tex corporation an attractive development proposition. The U. S. Tex Corporation is one of the larger independent operating combinations in Texas, the last oil and gas production report showing them as owning production amounting to nearly 15,000 barrels a month.

Residents of the section around Branchville state that they have recently been told by executives of the corporation that an outfit would be moved on and drilling begin in a short time.

Melvin Weems, E. Second St., Cameron, says: "Whenever I took cold or when there was a sudden change in the weather, my kidneys bothered me by acting too freely. There was a sediment in the secretions and they burned in passage. My back got so lame, the muscles all through it were sore. I had taken all kinds of medicine, but didn't get any help at all. The doctor told me to take Doan's Kidney Pills. I got a supply of Doan's and took them as directed. They cured me and my kidneys have been strong since then."
